FIELDS IS EASY WINNER; ENTIRE
STATE UNCHANGED*Congressional Line-up of Kentucky
Remains Unchanged in Tuesday's Election—No Interest Shown in This District.

William J. Fields of Olive Hill, Democrat, present incumbent, was returned to Congress as the representative of the Ninth District in Tuesday's election by a good majority over J. H. Stricklin, of Morgan county, Republican.

Reports from over the entire district show that the same condition that prevailed in the election here prevailed over the entire district and over the entire state, except in instances where there were warm local fights to bring out the voters.

Complete unofficial returns from Mason county shows Congressman Fields' majority over J. H. Stricklin to be 446 votes. Complete returns gives Fields 1874, Stricklin 1428. There has not been an election held in Mason county in years in which there was less interest taken by both parties.

Fields maintained a lead throughout the entire district. Nicholas county gave him a majority of approximately 900, Rowan's Democratic majority was cut to about 129, Breathitt's majority was only 250, Bath's 400, Montgomery's 400, Robertson's 270, and Fleming 494. Lewis county showed the greatest drop, giving Stricklin a majority of less than 200. No interest whatever was shown there.

There is no change in the Congressional line-up in the state. The winners being as follows:

First District—Alben W. Barkley, of Paducah, Democrat.

Second District—David H. Knicheloe of Madisonville, Democrat.

Third District—R. Y. Thomas, Jr., of Central City, Democrat.

Fourth District—Ben Johnson, of Bardonia, Democrat.

Fifth District—Maurice Thatcher, of Louisville, Republican.

Sixth District—Arthur B. Rouse, of Covington, Democrat.

Seventh District—J. Campbell Cantrell, of Georgetown, Democrat.

Eighth District—Ralph Gilbert, of Shelbyville, Democrat.

Ninth District—W. J. Fields, of Olive Hill, Democrat.

Tenth District—John W. Langley, of Pikeville, Republican.

Eleventh District—J. M. Robison, of Barbourville, Republican.

LOCAL BANKS TO CLOSE

ON SATURDAY.

All Maysville banks will be closed on Saturday—Armistice Day. All employers are urged to prepare for Saturday by doing their banking on Friday.

ALLEGED DETECTIVE
HAS GIVEN BOND*Father and Uncle of Scooby Hardman
Secure Release of Carlisle Detective.

Winchester, Ky., Nov. 8.—O. M. Morgan, of Carlisle, who was brought here late last night by Sheriff James Gaunce, of Nicholas county after being arrested on a charge of complicity in an alleged plot to assist Scooby Hardman in escaping from the Clark county jail, gave bond of $1,000 today and returned to Carlisle.

Morgan's bond was furnished by Lee Hardman, father of Scooby Hardman, and W. J. Walden, of Winchester, his uncle. Morgan is said to have been employed in detective work in the interest of Hardman, who is charged with the murder of Leon Renaker, Winchester commission merchant, here last July.

Morgan's arrest followed an investigation made by County Attorney Herbert Moore, after John Schumaker, who is in jail here awaiting an appeal from a life sentence, confessed that Hardman had been provided with keys with which the two were to make their escape.

METROPOLITAN INSURANCE CO.
TO HAVE EXECUTIVE HERE.

Mr. F. C. Powell, of Carlisle, has been appointed assistant manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company and has been assigned to Maysville. This is the first time in several years that there has been an assistant manager in Maysville. For many years the local office has been under the direct management of the Paris office. Mr. Powell has moved to Maysville and will assume control of the local office Monday.

PASTOR MULLEN IN MUCH BETTER CONDITION.

Reports from Pastor John Mullen, of the Christian church, who underwent a very serious surgical operation Monday evening, are to the effect that he is doing quite satisfactorily and unless unforeseen developments arise, he will recover in a short time. Many reports about the pastor's condition were exaggerated although he was in a very critical condition for a time.

FIRST DISTRICT P.-T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the First District P.-T. A. will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Dr. Guttard will address the association and there will be music by the pupils of Mrs. Ross' room. Much business of importance is to be taken up. Every member is urged to be present. Please note the change in the hour, 1:30 instead of 3 o'clock, the usual time.

Mr. Charles Sulzer is very ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. W. Baldwin, in the county.

REPUBLICANS IN CONTROL ALTHOUGH MAJORITY IS CUT*Democrats Carry New York, Elect the Governor in Ohio and Take Several Seats in Congress—Fess Defeats
Pomeroy in Ohio.

Returns Wednesday in addition to those of Tuesday night showed that Republican seats in the Senate from Indiana, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Michigan and West Virginia had been captured by the Democrats and that the Republicans had taken Democratic Senate seats in Nebraska and Ohio. In Delaware, Montana and Minnesota the results are still in doubt. This would reduce the Republican majority in the Senate from 24 to 16.

In Ohio where the greatest amount of interest in this section was shown, it appears that Vic Donahey, the Democratic candidate for Governor, had defeated Carmel Thompson and that Simeon D. Fess, the Republican candidate for Senator, had defeated Albee Pomeroy, Democrat, the incumbent. In this state the wet and dry issue attracted much attention and late returns indicate that the state has endorsed prohibition by a substantial vote. In Texas, Rhode Island, Oregon, Indiana, Missouri, West Virginia, the Democrats have elected state officers. In Minnesota Dr. H. Shipstead, non-partisan, was elected Senator over Senator Frank Kellogg, Mrs. Anna Olson, Democrat, running a poor third.

In California Senator Hiram Johnson was re-elected by a vote of more than two over his Democratic opponent. A Republican governor was also elected. In New Hampshire Fred Brown was elected Governor, while in Wisconsin Senator Robert LaFollette was re-elected.

BONDS IS VOTED.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—World War veterans were voted a bonus in four of the five midwestern states which bailed on a state bond issue for that purpose Tuesday.

The bonus carried in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Montana, while Oklahoma voters turned it down.

WETS TRIUMPH IN ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Illinois has voted wet by a majority of more than 60,000. Two hundred eighty-seven precincts out of 3,546 outside Cook county gave: For beer and light wines, 71,567. Against, 36,491.

Democratic candidates for local offices were leading early today for places now held by Republicans.

SENATOR REED IS RE-ELECTED.

St. Louis, Nov. 7.—Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, increased his lead to approximately 15,000 over R. R. Brewster, Republican, in the Missouri senatorial race, when nearly one-third of the precincts in the state reported tonight. In 1,008 precincts out of 3,873 in Missouri, the voted was Reed, 104,112 Brewster, 88,332.

EDWARDS WINS ONWET PROGRAM.

New York, Nov. 7.—Early returns in New Jersey favored Governor Edward I. Edwards, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, who has made his fight against Joseph S. Freylich, Republican candidate for re-election, chiefly upon a platform plank calling for modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer.

GILLETTE RE-ELECTED;PATRIARCH OF HOUSE.

New York, Nov. 7.—Speaker Gillette, Republican, was re-elected from the Second Massachusetts District for his sixteenth term, making him the patriarch of the new House of Representatives, an honor now held by former Speaker Cannon, who was not a candidate for re-election to the new Congress. "Uncle Joe" Cannon has had twenty-three terms, but they were not continuous.

MILLER CONCEDES HISDEFEAT TO SMITH.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Governor Nathan L. Miller, Republican, late tonight conceded the election of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, his Democratic opponent, in a telegram to Mr. Smith offering his congratulations.

The Governor read the returns in the Executive Mansion. He was unusually confident of his re-election until he received definite word from Republican state headquarters that Mr. Smith was running far ahead in many upstate Republican cities. The Governor's telegram to Mr. Smith follows: "Having tried both our brands of government the voters decisively have chosen yours. I cheerfully accept the result and congratulate you on your victory."

CITY COURT.

In City Court Wednesday afternoon Ed Ryan was fined $13.50 on a charge of exceeding the speed limit. This is the first speeding fine assessed in the local court since the adoption of the new traffic ordinance.

CHAS. KEARNS AGAIN
RETURNED TO CONGRESS*Neighbor District in Ohio Sends Batavia Man Back to Congress—Republican Clerk Is Elected.

Complete returns from the Sixth district in Ohio, the district lying directly across the river, Hon. Charles E. Kearns, of Batavia, was re-elected to Congress over Mayor William Gableman of Portsmouth, by a majority of more than 2500 votes. The Portsmouth mayor only carried Brown county, one of the biggest Democratic counties in the entire district, by a majority of ninety votes.

The entire Democratic county ticket in Brown county was elected with the single exception of County Clerk Sam J. Stewart, of Aberdeen, the Democratic nominee for Clerk, was defeated by Fred Ennis, ex-soldier, Republican, by a majority of from seven to eight hundred votes.

Young Ennis was wounded in France, was very popular among the people of Brown county and had an organization of ex-service men all over the county.

SELF-DEFENSE CLAIMED BY LOCAL MAN IN SHOOTING*Dewey Mallory, of This City, Charged
With Shooting and Wounding South Portsmouth Man

A Portsmouth dispatch says: E. Dewey Mallory of Maysville, Ky., former C. & O. special officer who fired the bullet from a revolver Saturday night, that killed Jack Baker, 27, well known young man of South Portsmouth, and who is in Schirman Hospital, in a serious condition, is now lodged in the Greenup county jail at Greenup.

Mallory surrendered to authorities Sunday morning and was taken on once to the Greenup jail, where he will remain probably until there is some change in Baker's condition.

The shooting occurred Saturday night about 7 o'clock on the platform of the C. & O. depot at South Portsmouth. The men had trouble throughout the day, which is said to have resulted in the shooting. Baker had his shot gun in his hand, Mallory says when he came back to the depot Saturday evening and shortly after his arrest Sunday morning, Mallory made the statement that he shot in self-defense.

75,000 GOAL IS THOUGHT REACHED
BY CO-OPERATIVE*Officials of Pool Say Goal in Membership Has Been Reached—Planning Now For Receipt.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 7.—With hundreds of contracts coming to the field service division of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association today, Chief William Collins said he had no doubt that the goal of 75,000 members had been reached in the drive, which closed Monday at midnight.

It will be several days, however, Mr. Collins said, before the actual number of additions to the association is known.

With the closing of the books at midnight, the next step is the preparation to receive the crops of those who have signed the contract. Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said today that some growers had been laboring under the mistaken impression that they would have to haul their tobacco to a large delivery point in order to get the best results in grading. That is a mistaken idea, he said.

"Many growers think that by hauling their tobacco to one of the big delivery points they will get a better grade and consequently a better price," Mr. Barker said. "This is a mistaken idea. One of the primary objects of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association was to see that every tobacco grower get the same price for the same kind of tobacco, wherever delivered or by whom delivered. Our graders working at the smaller delivery points are men of just as great ability and as high character as the men working at the larger points in the district."

"We hope that growers will deliver their tobacco to the delivery point nearest their homes and thus put to use the receiving plants located as they are to serve their convenience. Instead of hauling their tobacco, in most cases, many miles farther, when such long haul is unnecessary. Every grower can depend on having his tobacco properly graded, wherever it is delivered."

INTEREST IN NEXTLYCEUM NUMBER.

Considerable interest seems to be shown in the next number on the Maysville High School Lyceum course. Ash Davis, the cartoonist, will be the entertainer on Friday evening, November 17th, and a large number of extra tickets are being sold.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE LEGAL HOLIDAY IN STATE*Governor's Proclamation Is Explained; Frankfort Banks to Close.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 8.—In a statement issued at Somerset Tuesday, where he had gone for the election, Governor Edwin P. Morrow designated Armistice Day, November 11, a legal holiday.

"The purpose of my Armistice Day proclamation," the Governor said, "was to set the day apart as a legal holiday. Some misunderstanding has arisen as to whether the day is a state holiday and in view of this I designate the day a legal holiday and urge every Kentuckian to observe it as such."

Banks will close Saturday for Armistice Day. This was decided today when several bankers called on State Banking Commissioner James P. Lewis and the Governor's office to inquire whether the Governor's proclamation, issued yesterday, was intended merely to call attention to the occasion or to designate it as a state holiday.

MINE VICTIMS REACH EIGHTY
KILLED BY GAS*Last Victim Thought to Have Been Removed Tuesday Afternoon — Funerals
Today.

Spangler, Penn., Nov. 7.—The Reilly Coal Company's mine, swept by a gas explosion yesterday morning, was cleared of its dead today.

Late this afternoon rescue crews brought out five bodies—believed to be the last. This brought the total of known dead to 80. Thirty-five miners were rescued.

Officials of the company declared a recheck of their records made is virtually certain that 112 men were in the mine when the explosion took place. The total of listed survivors included six miners who were in the cage when the flood of gas and smoke issued from the mouth of the shaft. The dead included three rescued miners, who failed to regain consciousness.

Further search of the headings was made tonight. Mine officials and rescue men believed it to be possible that one or two men might have entered the mine yesterday without reporting. All miners listed as missing have been accounted for, however.

The quiet precision which marked removal of the corpses was evident tonight as preparations for funerals were under way. Identified bodies were removed as quickly as they were claimed. Company officials notified widows and relatives that they will take charge of funeral arrangements if desired.

Many bodies will be buried tomorrow. Most of the victims were Roman Catholics, and their pastors, who figured conspicuously in relief activities, arranged to conduct last rites of the church in two small cemeteries, where a number of volunteers are digging graves tonight.

WHAT ROOSEVELT ADVOCATED

Commenting on the recent statement of Mr. Beveridge that had Mr. Roosevelt been President America "might not have been dragged into the war," the Louisville Post expresses the opinion that this "grossly unjust to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt," and insists that it is altogether probable that Mr. Roosevelt would have made the effort to get the United States into the conflict before the time when Mr. Wilson at last elected to take the final step.

It may be worth while to find out what Mr. Roosevelt actually said at the time when we were neutral. His attitude is in no doubt, though as President he might have held somewhat different views of America's duty in the premises. There is nothing to indicate that he either wanted Mr. Wilson to declare war on Germany in 1914 or 1915, or that he himself would have taken such a course had the responsibility been laid upon him. But he did emphatically and deeply feel that our course in the early stages of the war was both cowardly and foolish, and that a different policy might either have brought the war to an early close or have, at least, "circumstribed its area."

His wrath was finally let loose against the theory of neutrality and its consequences in a book published in January, 1915, "America and the World War." This was two years and four months before the declaration of war. He says in this book: "I feel in the strongest way that we should have interfered, at least to the extent of the most emphatic diplomatic protest and at the very outset—and then by whatever further action was necessary—in regard to the violation of the neutrality of Belgium; for this act was the earliest and the most important and, in its consequences, the most ruinous of all the violations and offenses against treaties committed by any combatant during the war. . . . If we had acted as we ought to have acted regarding Belgium we could then with a clear conscience have made effective protest regarding every other case of violation of the rights of neutrals or of offenses committed by the belligerents against one another or against us in violation of the Hague conventions. . . . The only way to show that our faith in public law was real was to protest against the assault on international morality implied in the invasion of Belgium. . . . Such action might very possibly have resulted in putting a stop to the war or in localizing and narrowly circumscribing its area."

A number of European statesmen have declared since the war that had Mr. Roosevelt been President the conflict would have been brief, because he would have immediately protested against the violation of the Hague conventions, warned all the Powers against any trespass or attack upon the rights or interests of the United States, and by making immediate naval and military preparations for any eventuality have compelled respect for his country's demands. His international reputation for courage, inflexible determination, and quick action in a crisis, many Europeans as well as many Americans believe would have brought the nations up sharp, and would have made Germany realize that it would be suicidal to provoke America to wrath.

It must at least be admitted that Mr. Beveridge is not without some just ground for his contention. It is evident now that it was the "timid and spiritless neutrality" and actual pacifism of our policy which encouraged Germany to go to such desperate lengths in the use of the submarine and in contempt of our rights on the seas.

LACE LUXURIES

During the recent campaign some of the Democratic speakers cited high tariff duties on fine laces and pointed to them as Republican crimes. They tried to leave the impression that the duties on those laces were typical of the entire tariff law. The fact is that the Democrats recognized that class of commodities as luxuries and taxed them heavily. The Republicans merely increased the tax in order to place a little heavier burden on the people of wealth who buy such imported laces and are well able to pay. The woman who is not satisfied with American lace ought to be willing to pay for the privilege of giving employment to some foreign lace maker.

AS USUAL

There was no need for newspapers to publish the fact that Mr. Gompers had come out for the Democratic candidates. He always does, and there is no particular news in his action.

COMMENT

Some people admire a man for the friends he makes but many admire a man for the enemies he makes.

The story that the Labor Unions will back Harry Daugherty for President has been definitely denied, says a New York Journal.

The Country Editor says: There is a Market for almost everything; but our principles and convictions, thank God, are not for sale.

Now that the season is over at Latonia, the boys will tell us all about the hunches on big winners they had but did not follow. The most of them will tell us how someone else led them to put the money on also runs while the horses they first picked in their own minds galloped into first or second money.

Tuesday's election was just about as exciting as a funeral. No one seemed to care. Voters must realize the importance of selecting our representatives in the legislative bodies, national, state and local. There's not a community on earth that needs to awaken and select real efficient men for Congress, General Assembly and Council more than Maysville and Mason County.

In the older days we heard much about the "Fighting Parson" but in these days we hear them referred to as "Sky Pilots." Rev. Overly has gained for himself the title of the "Fighting Parson" in all seriousness; the war, the moving pictures or something else has reduced the present day preacher to a sort of "molly-coddle." In truth, the most of our preachers are real He-Men and don't deserve such ridicule.

Our sisters—the newly enfranchised—must realize that while the right of suffrage brought equal rights, it also brought equal responsibilities. From the number of women who voted in Maysville Tuesday, one might fairly judge that Maysville women cared little about their new right and did not care to shoulder their new responsibility.

We heard yesterday of a Mason County man who got religion at a revival, confessed to moonshining and, in confession, said he was going home to destroy his still. We haven't heard about his surrender to the Sheriff as yet.

Kentucky Mountain Folk Lore is filled with pretty sentiment and some day its beauty will be appreciated. A blind mountaineer-fiddler on the streets of Maysville Monday sang some of the old mountain stories to his own violin accompaniment. He had no voice nor could he play with the feeling of an artist; but we stopped for a moment and listened to the old mountain story of love and feud. Some how or other, it sort of got under our skin.

Writing on "The Education I Wish I Might Have Had" in the November American, Dr. Frank Crane says a big thing when he says: "The essential element in education is the educator. The big thing in teaching is not the system; it is the teacher. . . . I had, I suppose, during my schooling perhaps one hundred teachers. Of this number I cannot recall more than two that ever did me any good. These two got hold of me and did something toward setting my feet on the right road and putting heart into me to go on. All the others were simply indifferent servants of the state, who ladled out for me my portion of mental pabulum." The kind of teachers Dr. Crane speaks about were just as scarce when we were school boys and are just as scarce today.

SCREEN STAR SAVES LIFE OF DERELICT.

A situation that had not been written in the story of "The Fox" by its author and star, Harry Carey, occurred while scenes were being made on the Mojave desert more than a hundred miles from civilization.

With Carey and his company filming "The Fox" was a full troop of cavalry from the Presidio at Monterey. The officers and some of the actors sat about chatting one day when suddenly there appeared on the horizon a queer light. Peter O'Hork, a desert rat, drove up in a rickety cart made of barrel staves behind a strange and hungry-looking little burro.

Crazed by the desert heat and with only a little food and water, he had made his last stand and asked only that death relieve him from his difficulties. Given extra rations and water the erratic old man and his queer vehicle disappeared over the rim of the desert and soon were lost to view.

Shortly afterward Harry Carey returned and heard the story. Without hesitating a moment he got into his machine and dashed after the ragged old derelict of the desert.

At the present moment Peter O'Hork is a valued member of the ranch life of Harry Carey and Harry Carey, Jr., finds much pleasure in pulling his straggly beard. "The Fox" will be shown at the Pastime Theater on Wednesday and Thursday nights. It is a "super-western" picture.

KENTUCKY NOW FOURTH IN PUREBRED CAMPAIGN.

Lexington, Ky. — In three months during the summer just past, Kentucky went from fifth to fourth place among all states in the number of farmers who have enrolled in the nation-wide "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign by agreeing to use nothing but purebred sires in all their breeding work, according to the latest quarterly report on the project which has just been received at the College of Agriculture. During those three months, from July 1 until October 1, more farmers were enrolled in the movement in Union county than in any other county in the country, according to the report. County Agent L. C. Brewer, working in co-operation with the college extension division here enrolled 70 farmers in the drive for better livestock. Of the 573 enrollments that were obtained throughout the United States, during the three months named, 246 came from Kentucky. The drive for better livestock, which is being carried on in all states of the country by state agricultural colleges in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture, is now in its fourth year, stood at the bottom of the list of all states when the work started but has made steady progress and at the present time is preceded by Ohio, Virginia and Nebraska in the order named. Oldham county where County Agent Gordon R. Nance is directing the work, has taken a prominent place in the drive, that county being one of 15 in which more than 100 farmers are enrolled.

Up to the present time, Oldham county is the leading one in Kentucky in the campaign, 11 per cent. of the farmers in that district or 120, being enrolled. Union county is second, Christian third, Wayne fourth and Fulton fifth. Other Kentucky counties in which good work is being done in the drive to improve livestock are Todd, Allen, Barren, Carroll, Muhlenberg and Nelson, county agents in many counties of the state are making a definite start toward bettering livestock conditions by making livestock surveys to find out the number of grade, scrub and purebred animals in their districts.

HOW TWO WOMEN ESCAPED OPERATIONS

Doctor Advised Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Happy Results in Both Cases

St. Joseph, Missouri. — "Both of my sides ached and hurt me so that I could not move or do any of my work. There was heavy pressure and pains through my lower organs and the doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for these troubles. He said I had this one chance, and if the Vegetable Compound did not help me nothing but an operation would. After taking several bottles I felt it was helping me and now I am able to do my own work. If my testimonial will help others I shall be glad for them to read it and hope your Vegetable Compound will do them as much good as it did me." — Mrs. Wm. Lockman, 613 N. 4th St., St. Joseph, Mo.

White Plains, N. Y. — "I had such a pain that I could hardly walk and the doctor said that I needed an operation. I was sick for a year before I started taking your medicine and I could not work. I saw your advertisement in a little book and that is how I came to take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E.

Pinkham's Blood Medicine, also Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and the capsules and prescription recommended. I am doing all my work and have gained twenty pounds. I am taking the medicine still, but I feel fine. You have my permission to use this letter for the good of others." — Mrs. Mary Mann, 37 Hamilton Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

Some female troubles may through neglect reach a stage when an operation is necessary. But most of the commoner ailments are not the surgical ones; they are not caused by serious displacements, tumors, or growths, although the symptoms may appear the same. When disturbing ailments first appear, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve the present distress and prevent more serious troubles. Many letters have been received from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after operations have been advised by attending physicians.

CROP INCREASE FIRST YEAR ALMOST PAYS FOR DRAIN

Lexington, Ky. — The cost of draining many fields on Kentucky farms can almost be paid for by the crop increases obtained the first year after the tile are put in, according to results obtained during the summer just past by W. G. Duncau, who is co-operating with County Agent F. O. Townes and the farm engineering section of the College of Agriculture in carrying out a drainage demonstration on his farm near Luxeruo, Muhlenburg county. It cost him $32.02 an acre to put in the drainage system but the crop of cowpeas hay from each acre of the drained area this year was valued at $23.88 more than that from each acre of the undrained section. The drainage system therefore lacks only $8.14 an acre of having paid for itself. The field being used in the demonstration contains about 20 acres, 11 of which were drained. The other nine acres had better soil on them and since they were not as wet as the eleven acres, they were left undrained so that the yields from the drained part of the field could be compared with those from a part of the same field that was not drained. The system was put in during this last spring, all the trenches for the tile being dug by hand. The cost of $32.02 an acre for putting in the tile probably could have been reduced had some of this work been done by machinery. Immediately after the drains had been put in, the entire 20 acres was treated with acid phosphate, which was applied at the rate of 200 pounds an acre, and the field planted to cowpeas.

When the cowpeas were cut this fall, it was found that the undrained part of the field yielded 3,769 pounds of cowpeas hay an acre while the drained part of the field yielded 6,350 pounds of hay an acre, or 1,582 pounds more an acre than the undrained area. This increase in the yield was valued at $23.88 since the hay sold for $30 a ton.

MISS BELLE BENNETT LEAVES CHURCH $10,000

Richmond, Ky., Nov. 6.—Wills of three prominent and wealthy Madison county citizens who have died within the last few months, were filed in county court here today.

The will of Miss Belle Bennett, which was written May 25, 1912, left her entire estate, with the exception of $10,000, to her brother, Walter Bennett, and her nieces and nephews. The bequest of $10,000 was left to the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, of which Miss Bennett was president, to be divided between the home and foreign mission departments.

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanné Price

New York. — Since "East Side, West Side, All around the town" has come to be one of the popular songs of the season again due to the gubernatorial candidacy of one of our native sons, interest has been renewed in the old Bowery. I took a walk down there the other day just to see for myself how song-inspiring it would seem nowadays. It lacks the old-time flavor. There is no doubt about that. Not a single panhandler asked me for "the price of a cup of coffee;" not one passerby could I identify as "thug-like;" not even were there children dancing on the pavement. Well-built business houses have replaced the old sagging structures, and an air of dignity pervades the thoroughfare. The old Bowery was gone! I was discouraged not finding even a bit of it, until I came across a restaurant, advertising a cup of "best Java coffee, three cents."

Here will be the opportunity to find the typical business woman of the world. If such a person exists. A congress of self-supporting women from all parts of the country will meet here during the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of Greater New York, according to the plans of the American Women's Association. It is estimated that there will be over 50,000 of them gathered in our city for the meeting. The celebration will be held next year, when the quarter century mark is reached since the boroughs of Brooklyn, Richmond, Queens and the Bronx decided to throw their lot in with Manhattan and create the second largest city in the world. It seems particularly appropriate that women should act as hostesses for the occasion, since their own forging of the front has been so rapid during these same twenty-five years. Working with Miss Robinson-Smith, President of the Women's Association, are Miss Anne Morgan, Miss Miriam K. Oliver, Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, Miss Maude Wetmore, Mrs. Henry Wiglesworth and others of national prominence.

—NY—
Word reached here not long ago that the Canadian roads were installing separate smokers for their Indy passengers. A storm of protest followed and for all we know the idea was abandoned. But right here on the lines coming into New York milder is invading the smokers and putting away to her hearts content. It developed in the complaint of a portly commuter that he could not get a seat in the smoky, because women were occupying the seats, and worse yet, smoking as well. One woman noticed was a very well groomed intelligent appearing person, who added insult to injury by holding a red rose between the slender fingers of one hand and the invidious stem of nicotine in the other. The complainant got little comfort from the conductor. "Sure she is, but nobody's paying any attention to her but you. She is smoking and minding her own business, which is all we ask of any smoker. There's no law that I know of to prevent a woman from smoking on a train if she wants to, so long as she smokes in the smoker." He might just as well have said, "Put that in your pipe and smoke it."

Chill November winds, even though they carry the prophetic sharpness of the Northwest, are failing to clear all the tennis courts hereabouts. Until the snow flies, and even after the first flurries have come, devotees of the game will still be found in daily indulgence of their sport. Tennis is becoming less and less a seasonal game, which cannot be said of most exhibition sports. Nor is it the professionals who keep it up. The occasional players welcome the opportunity of getting out of the municipal courts when not so many of the experts are around. I have seen them time and again on the courts near Columbia University, clad in great sweaters, playing as hard a game as in the middle of July. The Japanese seem to regard it as a year around sport. Perhaps that is the way they keep fit.

—NY—
"If Winter Comes," that most popular novel of last season, is to be produced on the stage here this season by Charles Dillingham. It was probably one of the most earnestly sought plays of the year, and the Dillingham forces are planning themselves upon their victory in getting the American rights. The best thing about the news of it is that the author, A. S. M. Hutchinson, himself, made the stage adaptation, with the assistance of the English playwright, Basil Hastings. Cyril Maude will have the role of Mark Sabre, and that is equal cause for rejoicing. That was, quizzical, likeable man will set the stage treatment needed to make him hold our affections as firmly as he did in the book.

FARMER MAKING TEST ON BIGGER YIELDS OF WHEAT.

Lexington, Ky. — J. R. Steward, one of the progressive farmers in the Henshaw community of Union county, has started a well-planned demonstration on his farm to find out how much the wheat yields on farms in that section of the state can be raised by the use of limestone and acid phosphate, according to a report from County Agent L. C. Brewer. Mr. Steward, who is co-operating with County Agent Brewer and the extension division of the College of Agriculture in carrying out the demonstration, will use a ten-acre field in comparing the value of limestone alone, limestone and acid phosphate used together, and acid phosphate alone for boosting wheat yields. Results of the demonstration are expected to prove of considerable value to farmers in that district.

Before the wheat was sowed, one-half the field had limestone applied to it at the rate of two tons an acre. When the wheat was sowed, acid phosphate also was applied to one-half the field at the rate of 200 pounds an acre, the material being spread in the opposite direction to that in which the limestone was put on. By this means, the ten-acre field was divided into four experimental plots of two and one-half acres each. One of the plots had an application of limestone alone, another received no treatment, the third received acid phosphate alone, while the fourth was given a treatment of both limestone and phosphate. The whole field was sowed with a Union county strain of bearded wheat.

The results which will be obtained by Mr. Steward are expected to be in line with those that have been obtained on the soil experiment fields maintained in different sections of the state by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. Limestone used alone on these fields has not given a very large increase in the yield of wheat. Acid phosphate used alone has given results a little better than those obtained by using limestone alone. Limestone and acid phosphate used together, however, have practically doubled the yield of wheat when several crops were averaged.

A combination of these two materials also has given good increases in the yield of clover that usually follows wheat. On the experiment fields, this increase has amounted to more than a ton an acre. Spring sowings of clover made in wheat that was treated with acid phosphate and limestone the previous fall are almost sure to give good yields.

THE PROPER COURSE
Information of Priceless Value to Every Maysville Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with kidney backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement should add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of a Maysville citizen who used them and who publicly tells of the benefit derived?

Ben P. Fleming, county constable, 228 Limestone street, Maysville, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for several years when I have needed them. At times my kidneys got out of order and I suffered with a dull constant ache through the small of my back. The kidney secretions were irregular in passage. A box or so of Doan's never fails to relieve the trouble in a short time."

The above statement was given November 14, 1916, and on November 22, 1920 Mr. Fleming added: "I am glad to renew the statement I gave for Doan's some years ago as the cure they made for me has been permanent."
